Midas at the NEC Classic Car Show

We hear from Richard Porter of the Mini Marcos Owners Club that the Midas Owners Club were back at the NEC in November 2018 for the Classic Car Show.

We hope to bring you more information about the show in the next edition of the club magazine.

40 Years after the launch of Midas of Midas, here is the first Midas car to be registered for the road

The 2018 Classic Motor Show

The beginning of November saw the second visit for the Midas Club to the Classic Car Show at the NEC. We must have got something right the year before. Opening to the public on the Friday, Thursday was spent setting out the stand and positioning four cars for display. Freshly carpeted and with a backdrop of information displays the willing helpers made it ready for the anticipated rush on Friday morning.

Centre stage where two iconic Midas CNC 297T the very first Midas, and T121 GMD the much modified Midas Mk2 assembled with an Alfa Romeo flat four engine and some very tricky suspension bits. This car, owned by Gordon Murray was only completed earlier in the year with help from the club.

CNC 297T was located in the North East and kindly lent

by Trevor Dixon and transported to the event by Alistair Courtney. (A lovely picture of this car was printed on the rear cover of the Winter edition of the club magazine – Editor)

A very tidy Mk3 convertible and Mk4 Cortez made up the other two positions.

I travelled down by train on the Friday and did a couple of days on the stand. The team of helpers, many in pale blue club tops, were kept busy throughout the day with onlookers. Some had been previous owners, some who were seeing the cars for the first time, all seemed impressed by the display and quality of the cars.
